

Juror, Mark Panza
Members Show 2017

Mark Panza uses an expanded set of resources to capture and manipulate the world around him through digital photography.

Utilizing technology to attain efficiency and precision, Panza's work evolves as his subject matter changes. He has explored the mystery of the human figure, the elements, flora, and modern architecture. Recently these inspirations have become increasingly suggestive of one another as they are digitally merged into highly personalized imagery. As their separate components begin to converse, new relationships are revealed, and there is an alchemical reaction.

Panza has owned and operated a framing business for three decades. This experience has led him to concoct novel ways of presenting his photos, such as reverse-angled degrees and levels to add increased dimensionality to his work.

Panza's photography has been on display at Carnegie Museum of Art, Westmoreland Museum of American Art, Pittsburgh Center for the Arts, and the Hoyt Fine Art Institute, among others.
